Housing providers and intermediaries

This category is specifically created for accommodation providers and intermediaries. It provides a document informing how they can connect to HOME's technical solution and showcase their housing offers in the Erasmus+ App, the European one-stop-shop of mobility by the European Commission. This document will also focus on what the HOME's Student Accommodation Quality Labels mean for housing providers and market intermediaries and what standards underpin them.

Educational resources are made available to understand how to assess the properties' quality and how to grant the properties one or more HOME Quality Labels. This will be easily comparable with practical examples of successfully and wrongly applied labels. The document also includes what the HOME technical infrastructure is and how to connect to it. In addition to this, here it will be possible to download a personalised "Train the trainer" Multiplier Toolkit for housing providers and market intermediaries to replicate the results of HOME.

Higher Education Institutions

This section introduces the topic of student accommodation in the framework of international student mobility allowing higher education institutions to understand how the HOME solution can support their international students in finding the best accommodation pre-mobility.

The focus is on what the Student Accommodation Quality Labels are and what they mean for a Higher Education Institution.

Here you will also find a personalised "Train the trainer" Multiplier Toolkit that HEIs can use to replicate the results of HOME at the local level.

International students and trainees

This section contains resources on how the HOME solution can support international students in their endeavour of finding suitable accommodation abroad in a more easy and efficient way.

This section in the Competence Centre will focus on what the HOME's Student Accommodation Quality Labels mean for students and what they entail, and tips and tricks on how to safely secure one's accommodation before one's departure via the Erasmus+ App. At the same time, information will be provided on how to handle potential issues arising with the property.

Student organisations

This section will provide information about the role of HOME in supporting international students with their accommodation abroad, and will help student organisations to understand how to support incoming international students in finding accommodation and the relevance of HOME's Student Accommodation Quality Labels and the foreseen integration of HOME student accommodation search function in the Erasmus+ App.
